Application Instructions

Selection of Treatment Areas: Determine areas where rats [,]/[or] mice [,]/[or] [meadow voles*] will most likely find and consume the bait. These areas typically are along walls, near gnawed openings or burrows, in corners and concealed places, and in other locations where signs of rats [,]/[or] mice [,]/[or] [meadow voles*] have been observed. Protect bait from rain and snow. Remove as many alternative food sources as possible to limit competition with the bait.

Baiting:

- House Mice: Use one wrapped soft bait per placement. Space placements at intervals of 8 to 12 feet in infested areas. Up to 2 soft baits may be used at points of very high house mouse activity. Maintain an uninterrupted supply of fresh bait for at least 15 days or until there no longer are fresh signs that house mice are feeding on the bait.
- Norway Rats and Roof Rats: Use 2 to 8 wrapped soft baits per placement. Space placements at intervals of 15 to 30 feet in infested areas. Maintain an uninterrupted supply of fresh bait for at least 7 days or until there no longer are fresh signs that Norway rats or roof rats are feeding on the bait.
- Eastern harvest mice*, Golden mice*, and Meadow voles*: Follow instructions for house mice.]
- Cotton rats*, Mexican woodrats*, Polynesian rats*, Southern plains woodrats*, and White-throated woodrats*: Follow instructions for Norway rats and roof rats.]

Follow-up: After initial bait placement, ensure an uninterrupted supply of bait is available for 15 days for mice [or meadow voles*] and 7 days for rats. Replace contaminated or spoiled bait immediately. If bait has been completely removed, replenish placements with 1 or 2 soft baits for mice [or meadow voles*] and 4 to 8 soft baits for rats. Wearing water proof gloves, collect and dispose of all visible dead rodents and left over bait. Where a continuous source of infestation is present, establish permanent bait stations and monitor them regularly. To discourage infestation, limit sources of food, water, and harborage as much as possible.
